

Pell Grant Recalculation Policy

Alamance Community College will recalculate the Pell Grant awards based on enrollment at the 10% point of the students term. A student should maintain the level of enrollment for which they were paid through the 10% point of the students term in order to be eligible for the Pell Grant that was disbursed. In the event a student decreases their enrollment before the 10% point, they will incur a recalculation overpayment.

Students in late start classes will have their entire enrollment calculated at the 10% point of their term.
