IMPORTANT NEWS

Digital Textbook Access Model

ACC's Equitable Access digital textbook model is designed to give students faster, more affordable access to course materials. Students will be charged $80 per digital textbook title for applicable courses.

Course materials will be available electronically through Moodle or your BibliU library on the first day of class.

Students may opt out if they prefer to purchase books on their own, as long as it occurs in the specified timeframe for that term as seen in your BibliU Library. Opting-out is inclusive of all sections for that term, it is not by individual class. Students who decide to Opt-Out of the BibliU Equitable Access program must do so for each semester that they want to opt-out of. Remember to do your research every semester and term to determine the best option for you

Financial assistance is available through the textbook scholarship, and students in select high school programs may have their fees covered.

To view and pay your book fees, please follow the instructions, or you may pay in person at the Cashier's Office.
